

Bob Markovich: A Passion for People

One wintry evening, Bob Markovich was starting his car in the EBMS parking lot when he noticed some colleagues struggling to wipe the snow off of their cars. So, he did what he usually does.

“He grabbed his snow brush out of his vehicle and came to assist us, smiling the entire time,” his colleague said.

Several weeks later, Markovich was surprised to learn that he had won the EBMS Living the Core Values award for passion.

“I was just shocked,” he said. “I never get awards. I (just) helped them clear their cars so they could get home safely.”

Markovich’s passion for helping others shows as he works as the mail clerk at EBMS, a role he has held for almost 11 years.

“I love being around here,” he said. “I’m excited to come to work because of the people. You’re going to get customer service, a smile, and a ‘How can I help you?’ when you come in here. It’s about them more than it is about me.”

His dedication to his job and the people he serves hasn’t gone unnoticed.

“His wonderful personality and unwavering enthusiasm make EBMS a great place to be,” his colleague said. “(We know) there is always going to be a smiling face to greet you and tell you to drive carefully as you exit the building.”

When he isn’t sorting mail and generously cleaning off colleagues’ cars, he enjoys spending time with his friends and his wife of 13 years. Markovich also likes cheering for the Colorado Rockies, Denver Broncos, and the University of Montana Grizzlies.
